

FLOOR LABEL WINDOW™

By the warehouse identification & marking specialists

Floor label protection products extend the life of a label placed on the floor, but their cost and installation time often outweighs the benefit. The Floor Label Window from ASG Services is an easy to apply alternative to aluminum frames and covers a larger label than other options.

Display Aperture:

At 10" x 8", the window is large enough for high performing barcode labels. Being on the floor, any label is likely to become dirty. Making the barcode bigger helps to reduce the effect dirt obstruction has, when scanning the barcode. Considering the adhesive strip backing, a label of 6" x 10" can be placed under or 6" x 10.5" for changeable labels, leaving an exposed edge, to remove and replace the label.

Label Design:

Portrait or landscape orientation allows large barcodes for improved scanning and distance, or multi location label design configurations where you could identify neighboring staging lanes or pallet slots, reducing overall cost.

Durable Material:

The plastic used is the same selected for bullet proof glass and by Lockheed Martin on the F22 jet fighter canopy. ASG Services use 1/8" thick sheets and machine the edges to create an angled face for material handling equipment to ride onto the window panel. This reduces the impact point force for extra resilience.

High Strength Adhesive:

Using a webbed adhesive, developed for the construction industry and which came top in tests when applied direct to concrete, it can withstand immense pressure, making it ideal for the warehouse floor environment.
